

Ready to pass a certification exam ?

Additional logins are required !

What we did previously ?

We created your Aruba login and HPE passport login that allow you to logon :

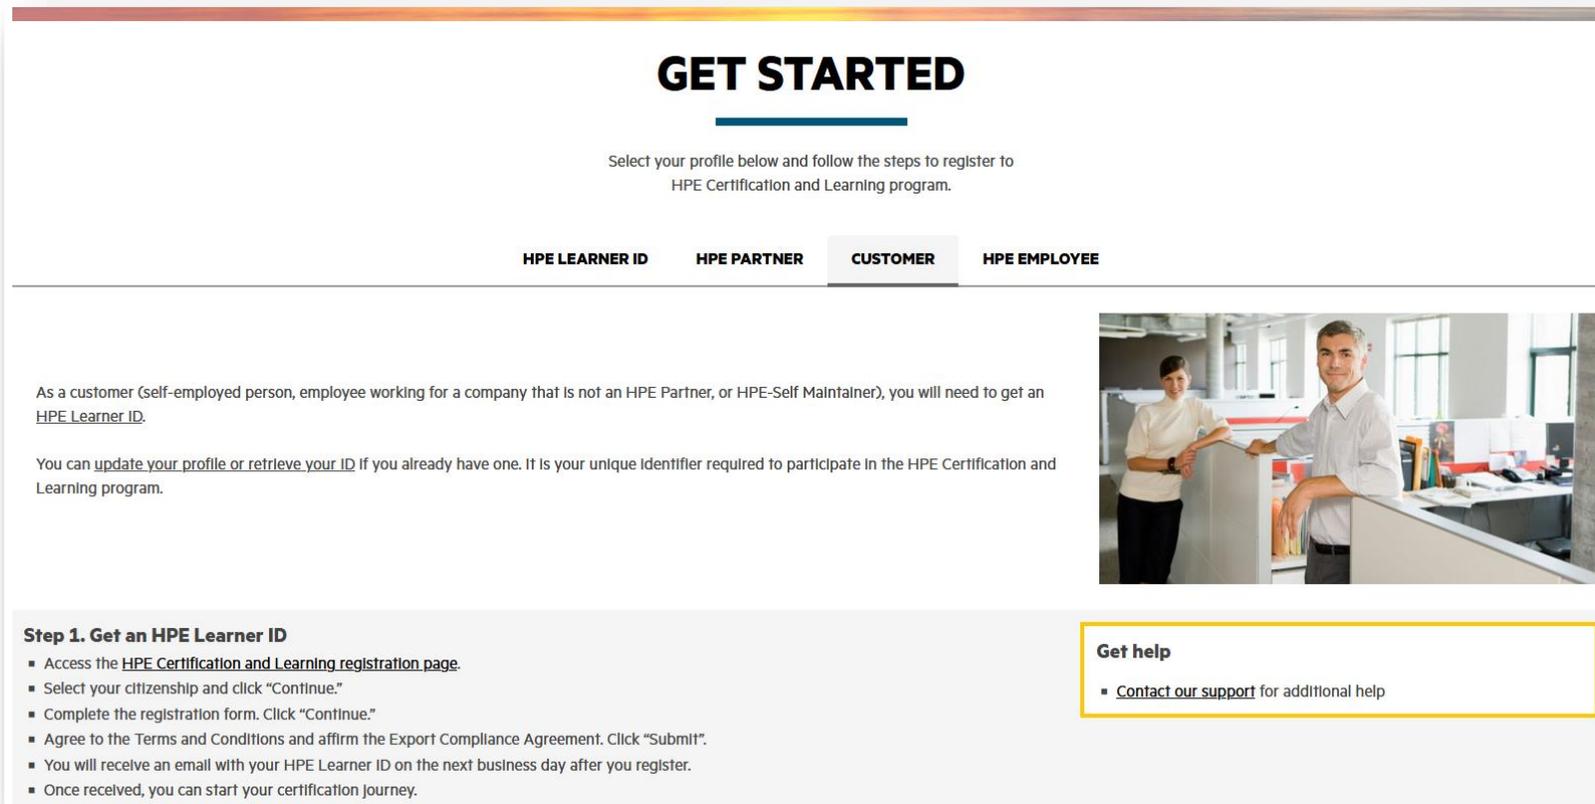

- Aruba Aiheads community
- Aruba Education services Website
- HPE Press website

Now create your learning profile to get your Learner ID

You will need a specific account to get access to Mylearning website and obtain a HPE Learner ID.
(So your previously created HPE Passport and Aruba logins are not enough)

Thanks to your Learner ID you will be able to create your test profile on Pearson VUE.
Everything is explain here : <https://certification-learning.hpe.com/ext/getStarted>

Testing Portal

First-time test-takers will need to create a profile on the HPE Certification and Learning Testing Portal before you can schedule an exam. Be sure you have your HPE Learner ID, your first and last name as it is listed in The Learning Center and your government issued photo identification.

Create testing profile
